For North Carolina’s Nonprofit Community

_The North Carolina Nonprofit Network_ is sent to you free as part of your membership in the N.C. Center for Nonprofits, the statewide network for all sizes and types of 501(3)(c) nonprofit organizations and foundations in North Carolina’s nonprofit community. This is one of several ways the Center helps nonprofits exchange ideas, solutions, and support -- across urban and rural settings, across fields of work, across races and ethnicity, across ideologies, and across other barriers that can divide us.

_How can you use it?_ Use it to identify others involved in the sort of work your organization does -- as potential collaborators or as sounding boards in your daily work. Use it to find other nonprofits in your county so you can look together at the particular challenges your region faces. Use it to share concerns and experiences with others in the same role you have -- whether you’re a board or staff member serving as an executive director, board chairperson, treasurer, or in a program, fundraising, or administrative position.

Index by County. Use this index to find nonprofits in your area that share your commitment to organizational excellence. Please contact your nonprofit neighbors in your own county and region.

Index by General Field. Use this new index to find others working in your field -- from the arts to women’s issues. Each organization chose its own primary field category (see choices at front of Index).

Who is included? This directory includes the 1,251 organizations that were current Members of the N.C. Center for Nonprofits as of August 6, 1999, except for a few that asked not to be listed here. The Network includes 3,540 board and staff members and volunteers in these organizations. Each organization was asked to review a report detailing its information to be published in this directory. Purpose statements are included for all that responded to our requests for this information. See the next page if you want to add more names to your listing. Note the membership date after each organization’s name. We especially salute the 238 faithful Founding Members who joined by January of 1993 and the 315 faithful Charter Members who joined between January and July of 1993.

What about the budget ranges? Center dues are on a sliding scale by the organization’s annual expenses (see next page for details); the budget range shown is based on the actual dues paid by each organization.

What else? The Center also provides a variety of services to help you find other nonprofit practitioners with expertise on particular challenges your nonprofit faces -- issues related to leadership, boards, management, fundraising, communication, ethics, evaluation, advocacy, collaboration, planning, compliance, and many others. See the information about our services in this directory or give us a call.

Use it! As you do your valuable work through North Carolina’s nonprofit sector, we hope you’ll use this tool to reach out to more of your nonprofit colleagues to support your own mission and to improve the quality of life in our state.

Please Tell Us . . .

We want to be sure everything about you and your organization is correct in our records and in future editions of The North Carolina Nonprofit Network. Please contact Belinda Beardsley (phone 919/790-1555, fax 919/790-5307, e-mail NCcenter@aol.com) at the N.C. Center for Nonprofits:

- If anything has changed at your organization. Let us know if your main address, board or staff names, titles, phone/fax numbers, e-mail addresses, or your organization’s purpose has changed. If your budget range is not correct, then you probably paid the wrong dues amount to the Center. Your dues are based on your annual expenses, using line 17 ("Total Expenses") on your latest Form 990 — or line 24 (a) on your latest 990-PF if you are in a private foundation. Please adjust your dues payment accordingly. The dues schedule is at the back of the directory (schedule is subject to change).

- If your purpose is not listed. This means we did not receive your purpose statement in time to include it. Please mail or fax it to us because this is the most important fact about your organization.

- If you want more names listed for your organization. Based on the size of your budget, your Center membership automatically covers two to five people (including the primary contact person who is listed first in your entry) on our mailing list to receive Common Ground and other mailings personally. See the dues schedule at the end of the directory to see how many names you can have as part of your membership (note the dues schedule may change). If your organization has not yet submitted its additional names, please take a moment to do so to ensure that you are getting the maximum benefit from your Center membership.

To make additions, please send the names, titles (both within your organization and in their regular jobs if relevant for board members), addresses, phone/fax numbers, and e-mail addresses. We will send each person a complete packet about the Center resources and services available to them.

If you want to add more names beyond those already covered in your membership, you can do so for a small fee. Some groups add all their board and staff members so everyone is aware of important issues in organizational and board effectiveness, legal compliance, and the nonprofit sector more broadly.

- If you want to choose a different primary field. Before you change it, look at the "Index by General Field" at the back of the directory. Note the other organizations in the same field as listed for your nonprofit; also look at those in the new category you are considering.

- If you have any questions about your membership or about the Center's services. We're here to support the important work you do to make North Carolina a better place to live. Just give us a call.

Thank you for helping us serve you better.

N.C. Center for Nonprofits
About the N.C. Center for Nonprofits

What is it? The N.C. Center for Nonprofits is a statewide network and coalition for 501(c)(3) nonprofits and foundations, an information center on effective organizational practices, and an advocate for the nonprofit sector as a whole. Governed by a diverse, statewide Board of Directors, the Center assists nonprofits as they work to achieve their goals for healthy communities across the state.

What are the goals? Our mission is to encourage support for the nonprofit sector and enhance the capacity of nonprofits to serve the people of North Carolina. Our goals are to:
- Provide access to high-quality assistance and information on effective nonprofit practices (e.g., management, governance, leadership, communication, fundraising, evaluation, advocacy, and collaboration);
- Help nonprofits save money on their operating costs;
- Foster communication and cooperation among nonprofits;
- Enhance public recognition of the importance of the nonprofit sector to the people of North Carolina; and
- Serve as an advocate on issues affecting the capacity of all 501(c)(3) nonprofits to address community needs.

How did it get started? Founded in 1990, the Center was created by nonprofit leaders across the state who were interested in working together for a better North Carolina. A total of 2,053 nonprofit practitioners from all 100 counties participated in interviews, focus groups, and surveys to determine what the Center's priorities should be. Since services began in July 1992, we have provided assistance to more than 4,500 nonprofits in all 100 counties across the state.

Who is included? Our services are open to all 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations of all types and sizes in North Carolina. These organizations can also become Center Members to receive a range of additional services. We work with nonprofits in all fields -- the arts, children, civic participation, economic and community development, education, environment, health, human services, philanthropy, public policy, social justice, volunteerism, women's issues, and many more. Individuals, businesses, government agencies, libraries, and non-501(c)(3) organizations can get onto our mailing list by becoming Associates (see enrollment form at the back of this directory).

With whom do we collaborate? Rather than trying to provide everything ourselves, the Center works closely with a wide web of collaborating organizations to leverage expertise needed by nonprofits -- expertise from the nonprofit sector as well as the business and government sectors. We work with other local and state networks of nonprofits in particular fields and with local, state, and national organizations that provide support services to nonprofits in North Carolina. We convene an annual Nonprofit Sector Collaborators' Mini-Conference as a forum for the exchange of information and ideas among support organizations serving the state's nonprofit sector. The Center is an active member of the National Council of Nonprofit Associations and Independent Sector.

What are the services? We offer a Board & Staff Helpline open to all 501(c)(3) nonprofits in the state, support the 1,251 nonprofits participating in the N.C. Nonprofit Network, publish Common Ground: Linking North Carolina's Nonprofit Sector and other practical publications, manage a Nonprofit Resource Center, offer referrals to selected consultants and experienced practitioners, conduct an annual statewide conference, provide training and forums on emerging nonprofit issues, track and initiate public policy initiatives that affect nonprofits, manage a network of advocates for the nonprofit sector as a whole, disseminate public policy alerts, help nonprofits cut costs on common expenses, and offer free legal help to nonprofits with budgets below $750,000.

Based on what values? We value a healthy civil society with active citizen participation, a caring sense of community, effective collaboration, accountability, diversity, respect for the people who work in nonprofits, and the careful use of all human, financial, and natural resources.
Alphabetical Listing of Organizations in

The North Carolina Nonprofit Network

These 1,251 nonprofit corporations have chosen to participate in the N.C. Nonprofit Network by becoming Members of the N.C. Center for Nonprofits. Each entry contains information provided by the organization, as listed below. If changes are needed, please contact Belinda Beardsley at the Center.

- Name of the organization. The nonprofit’s legal name or a name that is used more commonly.

- Membership date. The date the organization became a Member of the Center. We especially honor and thank the 238 faithful Founding Members who joined by January 1993 and the 315 faithful Charter Members who joined by July 1993.

- Contact information. The address, phone number, fax number, and e-mail and web site addresses.

- Primary field. The primary field category you indicated on your organization’s form for this directory. If you did not indicate one, we assigned the field category. You can change your category, but please first look at the "Index by General Field" at the back of the directory. Note the other organizations in the same field as listed for your nonprofit; also look at those in the new category you are considering.

- Purpose. The organization’s main purpose. If you entry does not include your purpose, please mail or fax it to us. This is the most important fact about your organization.

- Budget range. The budget range as of July 1999, based on the annual dues the organization paid to the Center. If your budget range is not correct, then you most likely paid the wrong dues amount. Dues are based on your annual expenses, using line 17 ("Total Expenses") on your latest Form 990 -- or line 24 (a) on your latest 990-PF if you are in a private foundation. Please adjust your dues payment accordingly. The dues schedule (subject to change) is at the back of the directory.

- People. The first person listed is the primary contact person the organization indicated to us. Others designated by the organization for our mailing list are listed in alphabetical order after the primary person. These individuals receive Common Ground and other selected mailings. Some materials, such as Employment Law for North Carolina Nonprofits: A Handbook for Managers and Board Members, are sent only to the primary contact person. Additional copies are available at a discounted Member rate.

- To add names for your group: Based on your budget size, your Center membership covers 2-5 people on our mailing list (including the primary contact person). See the dues schedule at the back to see how many names are included as part of your membership. If you haven’t submitted your additional names, please do so now to ensure you’re getting the maximum benefit from your Center membership. Send us their names, titles, addresses, and phone/fax/e-mail numbers. We’ll send each person a complete resource packet. You can also add extra names for a small fee. Some groups add all their board and staff members so everyone is aware of important issues in organizational effectiveness and the nonprofit sector.

Individuals and entities become Associates to keep up with trends in the nonprofit sector, to be effective volunteers and board members, to explore careers in nonprofits, to learn about North Carolina, and to support the health of the nonprofit sector in North Carolina.

We welcome and appreciate the Associates listed in this section. The categories of Center Associates include:

- Government Associates. For agencies and representatives of local, state, and federal government.

- Individual Associates. For individuals who are not employed in a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization in North Carolina. A nonprofit employee may become an Individual Associate in addition to their organization's regular membership in the Center, but not as a substitute for membership.

About the N.C. Center for Nonprofits

What is the Center? The N.C. Center for Nonprofits is a private, 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that serves as a statewide network for nonprofit boards and staffs, an information center on effective practices, and an advocate for the nonprofit sector as a whole. Our mission is to encourage support for the nonprofit sector and enhance the capacity of nonprofits to serve the people of North Carolina. We offer services directly to all sizes and types of 501(c)(3) nonprofits, and we work closely with other local, state, and national groups that assist nonprofits.

Concerned about the increasing challenges they faced, nonprofit leaders across the state founded the Center in 1990. More than 2,000 nonprofit practitioners from all 100 counties gave grassroots input to determine our goals. More than 1,250 organizations have joined this coalition of nonprofits working together for a better North Carolina.

What does it do? Our goals are to help nonprofits achieve their goals in the communities they serve; provide access to high-quality information on effective practices; foster communication and cooperation among nonprofits; help them cut operating costs; enhance public recognition of the value of the nonprofit sector; and advocate on issues that affect 501(c)(3) nonprofits' capacity to address community needs. We offer our services through a statewide Board of Directors, a lean staff, and a wide web of collaborating organizations.
